Mary Jean Bell

In memory of our friend and classmate Mary Jean Bell, who died of an illness on July 16, 1960.
Although she left us for a new and better home in heaven, the memories we have of her are always very near.

Each anxious, puzzled "Why?"
From grief and sorrow that grows,
Finds answer in this thought,
We know not, but she knows.

FOREWORD

High school days are a treasure chest of memories. As time passes on these memories will become dim. Only these pages will remain to remind us of our school days. Through these pages a reflection of studies, activities, joys, and heart-aches can be recalled.

In the following pages, we wish to acknowledge the honors bestowed on the students of Alta High. Their achievements reflect on their school as well as the community. These goals which they have obtained will be a stepping stone to future success. . . .

Cyclone Activities

The Alta Yearbook is a pictorial record of our school activities for the year. We hope that in later years it will help recall many fond memories.

The selling campaign was the start of the staff's work for the year. This sales campaign took place early in the fall. Next came picture-taking day and this was followed by the laying out and publishing of the yearbook.

With the help of the editors and yearbook staff, we were again able to produce a fine yearbook.

The highlight of the year was the hobo skating party at which a king and queen were chosen.

We wish to thank all those who had a part in making the 1963 yearbook a success. This year's Cyclone contained eighty pages and we sold 365 yearbooks.

Scarlet and Black Activities

The objectives of Scarlet and Black are those of any paper--to provide items of news, interest, and entertainment. We hope that we have objectively mirrored the events of the school year, as well as provided, by editorial means, food for thought on matters concerning our school and its students. Besides providing this information to the community and school, Scarlet and Black has an additional and less discernable value. It provides its staff with the opportunity to express themselves creatively and to learn to accept the responsibility that must come with any honor. We hope that our endeavors this year are commensurate with the co-operation received from the school and the community. Foremost among those to whom special thanks must be given is the Alta Advertiser. For any success we may have enjoyed this year, we are indebted to those whose combined efforts made it possible.

Science Club Activities

Science Club consists of a group of enthusiastic high school students who wish to broaden their scientific knowledge, under the capable leadership of our advisor, Mr. McCoy. Members of Science Club must be enrolled in an advanced math or science course.

One meeting is held each month. One member is responsible for a talk or demonstration at each meeting.

The Science Club participated in the Carnival and also visited the Science Fair in Des Moines.

German Club Activities

The German Club began its new year with an election of officers. During the year films and German readings were presented, which promoted the reason of German Club, to learn more about Germany and the German language.

During Christmas holidays the German Club caroled at various homes in the community.

In March the German Club sponsored their annual carnival with various other school organizations taking part. Janet Porter and Richard Groth were elected Carnival Queen and King.

Toward the end of the school year the German Club enjoyed a German dinner and a German outing.

Thus the German Club ended a busy and successful year.

FTA Activities

The Alta Chapter of Future Teachers of America is a new organization which was developed for students who are interested in the teaching profession. We had two meetings every month. One was a general business meeting and at the other we had a speaker, tape, or film. We were privileged to have Mr. Clossen from the State College of Iowa at Cedar Falls speak to us about the teaching profession. We worked with teachers who specialized in the fields of teaching that we preferred, then at our last meeting we reported to our fellow members what we had learned from our year's experience. Each of the members purchased an F.T.A. pin. We are a group of ten members who are genuinely interested in furthering the education of American people.

FHA Activities

The Alta Chapter of Future Homemakers of America has been very busy this year. We consisted of 26 members. Many of us attended the F.H.A. District convention at LeMars, Iowa. Everyone worked very hard to earn a lot of money on Slave Day. We held a bake sale at the laundromat to earn money for the very successful Christmas formal dance that we sponsored. Throughout the year we sold a 2000 meat recipe cookbook. Everyone enjoyed a pizza party after school one day.

In February we elected the new officers for the coming year and had a formal installation in May. Three of our officers for the next year were very lucky to get to attend State Convention at Des Moines, Iowa. This was an experience they will never forget. On Halloween we went Trick-or-Treating for UNICEF and collected $60 for needy children all over the world. At one of our monthly meetings we cleaned the school's trophy case.

FFA Activities

The Alta Chapter of the FFA has done many things in the past year. We held meetings the year around and participated in outside events as well as activities in our own community. During the summer we entered a team in the FFA judging contest at the Buena Vista County Fair. The team also judged at the Spencer Fair, the Sioux City Hog Show, and the Buena Vista County Swine Producers Show. The members of the team were Loren Bengtson, Lynn Osborne, Richard Groth, and John Nordstrom.

We also held our annual chapter project tour during July. Our chapter officers took their yearly trip to the lakes and enjoyed the fishing, swimming, and entertainment found there.

Ronald Steffes Receives Star Green Hand Award at the FFA Son-Parent Banquet

The chapter sent delegates to the state as well as the district convention. Our parliamentary procedure team won a silver award at the sub-district contest. We also had a creed speaker participate in the contest.

As a money making project, our chapter sold fruit which we had purchased in Florida.

During March our chapter challenged the Aurelia chapter to a basketball game at our school. Our annual parent-son banquet was enjoyed by our members and our parents.

Tribute was paid to the Senior class of 1963, with a banquet and prom April 27.

The theme "Sayonara" was carried out in the cafeteria with restaurant scenes and a large dragon. Coolie hat nut cups and chopsticks further carried out the oriental theme. Coolie boys and geisha girls from the sophomore class waited tables. The fortune cookies proved an interesting conversation piece.

The hall depicted a flower garden, Mount Fujiyama and an oriental sunset. A great golden Buddha held the place of honor. The freshmen and sophomores enacted a clever skit along the oriental theme. The music was furnished by the "Continental."

Homecoming Activities

The highlights of our 1962-63 football season was the Homecoming Activities.

Each class worked diligently on their float as the big day neared.

During the week a king, queen, and attendants were chosen. Queen Karna Bergmann and King Dean Brechwald reigned over the Homecoming dance and other activities that took place that week.

A pep rally and bonfire was held on Thursday evening. Pep talks were given by the King and Queen, and Coach Trooien.

Friday was a beautiful day and the Queen and her court were lovely in the traditional Friday afternoon parade. The Cyclones spirits were high even though the game was lost to Aurelia.

During the half-time the King and Queen were crowned and their court was introduced.

The Annual Homecoming Dance topped off the Homecoming Activities for 1962-63.

Mixed Chorus

This year has been quite a busy and fruitful one in the vocal department. In the fall we started the year with a second annual production of "Two On the Aisle." It was a staged production of skits and music in the lighter vein. Masters of ceremonies for the evening were John Nordstrom and Marilyn Murphy. They kept the evening full of life. Mr. Schive's stage band added a lot to the show.

For the annual Christmas Concert, all three large groups and an enlarged madrigal performed. The sacred story was retold in musical selections. The mixed chorus sang a cappella with the exception of one number which featured the brass choir. Ruth Ann Peterson, Dianne Radke, Lynn Fett, Paul Buss, and Jon Sherman were featured soloists. To give a light side to the program, the Girls' Glee and madrigal singers enacted a Christmas evening's stroll through the business district of a town like Alta. This portion of the program was staged with shop windows and costumes. Many jolly Christmas selections were sung as each shop window came to life. Part of the girls' glee club with the help of an instrumental group performed a ballet from the "Nutcracker Suite."

The Triple A Festival this year was entirely vocal. It was held at Albert City. For variety, each of the choruses from the three schools performed separately. Mr. Elliott was very proud of Alta's showing with "Madame Jeanette" and "Set Down Servant." Miriam

"Two on the Aisle"

The second annual production of "Two On the Aisle" was staged in a night club atmosphere this year. Its name was "Club Top Hat." The audience could imagine they were watching a floor show complete with dance band. Each high school class was represented in a variety of acts from chorus lines, song and dance routines, and to comedy skits. The evening was handled skillfully by two of Alta's famous comedy artists, John Nordstrom and Marilyn Murphy.

Instrumental Music Activities

The Instrumental Music Department has completed another busy year. Over sixty performances were made by the Concert Band, Marching Band, Stage Band and ensembles.

The Cyclone Marching Band performed for four home football games, marched in both the Alta and Buena Vista College Homecoming parades and competed in two marching band contests.

On October 6, the band journeyed to Luverne, Minnesota, where they competed in the Tri-State Band Festival. After parading in a drizzling rain during the morning, the band captured their second consecutive A rating trophy with a fine performance in the afternoon.

On the following Saturday, the band entered the State Marching Band Contest at Bode. Their performance, however, was not up to par, and, on a split decision, they received Division II rating, getting a I and two II's from the three judges.

Eighty musicians were used during the marching season; after the band moves indoors, the membership is limited to seventy.

The Instrumental program also included a Junior High School Band of sixty-six members and a Beginners Band of forty.

Other highlights in the year included participation in the second annual variety show "Two On the Aisle," the Winter Pops Concert, "Swing Into Spring," the annual State Band Concert, and the Spring Concert.

This year's guest artist for the Spring Band Concert was Michael Holtz, alto saxophone soloist. Mike, as he is known to his friends in Alta, is a graduate of Galva High School and is now a sophomore at St. Olaf College. His performance was warmly received by the audience.

The coming of spring also means the coming of music contests. The State Solo and Ensemble Contest was held in Marcus, on April 19 and 20. The follow-

Kindergarten Activities

Painting is probably the favorite activity in kindergarten. Other activities include: modeling clay, singing, expressing themselves in finger plays and rhyme, playing house, and playing with trains and blocks.

Rhyming words and beginning sounds are part of reading readiness. Numbers from one to ten are written and concepts of each are learned. Creative expressions to rhythm records are great fun.

First Grade Activities

It was a most thrilling day when the first graders began reading their first words. The boys and girls learned many words throughout the year and have enjoyed reading the many humorous experiences of Dick, Jane, and Sally.

Along with reading comes phonics. Phonics gave the boys and girls the ability to recognize initial and final consonants, rhyming words and sounding simple new words.

In numbers the combinations were learned by recognition of groups with a single eye movement. Also the use and meaning of pennies, nickels, and dimes was studied.

Manuscript writing was a learning experience in which the boys and girls expressed their own ideas and thoughts. The first step in this experience was recognizing the correct formation of each letter. Then words and sentences were formed. The last step was writing simple independent stories.

Animals, plants, earth, weather, energy, and other things around us have made an interesting science talk.

The social studies work was centered around the family, school, and holidays.

Second Grade Activities

The second grade has an enrollment of 62 children. Reading and phonics have helped them improve their ability in independent reading. In arithmetic we learn to add, subtract, and multiply and enjoy practicing these processes through the use of flash cards and board drills.

An eventful experience is changing from manuscript to cursive writing. It has taken much time and practice.

Science proves to be more interesting with each unit. We have enjoyed the study of the earth, sun and moon, and our make believe trips through outer space. Film strips added much to the enthusiasm.

We have a new social studies book, "Stories About Sally." Units covered were getting news, community workers, transportation, grocery store, bakery, and travel throughout the United States.

The highlight of the year was our train ride to Cherokee and a trip through the Planetarium.

Fourth Grade Activities

We have been doing and learning many interesting things in the fourth grade this year.

Fourth graders have brought some of the past into their own rooms through the construction of early colonial rooms, Indian pueblos, and Spanish language and listening to the native music.

Many scientific concepts have been developed as a result of experiments conducted by the students. A trip to the planetarium provided us with much information on the subject of astronomy.

In mathematics we have spent a great deal of time in setting up equations, problem solving, and reviewing and learning more about the processes of multiplication and division.

These and other activities have contributed to an enjoyable and worthwhile learning experience.

Fifth Grade Activities

The fifth graders have had several new experiences this year. They have made a passing acquaintance with "modern math" and conducted some experiments using the new science laboratory. Part of the group have started instrumental music and played in beginners' band.

Social studies includes a study of the fifty states and our North and South American neighbors. Shorter periods of time are spent on transportation, communication, and government. Map sills workbooks were used on a supplementary basis.

Arithmetic has included lots of work in problem solving, long division, and fractions, as well as emphasis on the understanding of the operations in addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. Number lines have helped for rounding numbers and also in comparing values of fractions. "Challenge" has been a favorite blackboard game.

Many skills are a continuation from lower grades. These include structural and phonetic analysis of words, vocabulary growth, map reading, development of spelling ability, speaking, listening, and writing.

Sixth Grade Activities

Of the various sixth grade studies, a few of the favorites include social studies, science, physical education, and both vocal and instrumental music. Arithmetic also ranks high as a favorite.

Other activities include: the Valentine Day Party, band concerts, basketball, science club and making "stained glass" windows during Christmas time.

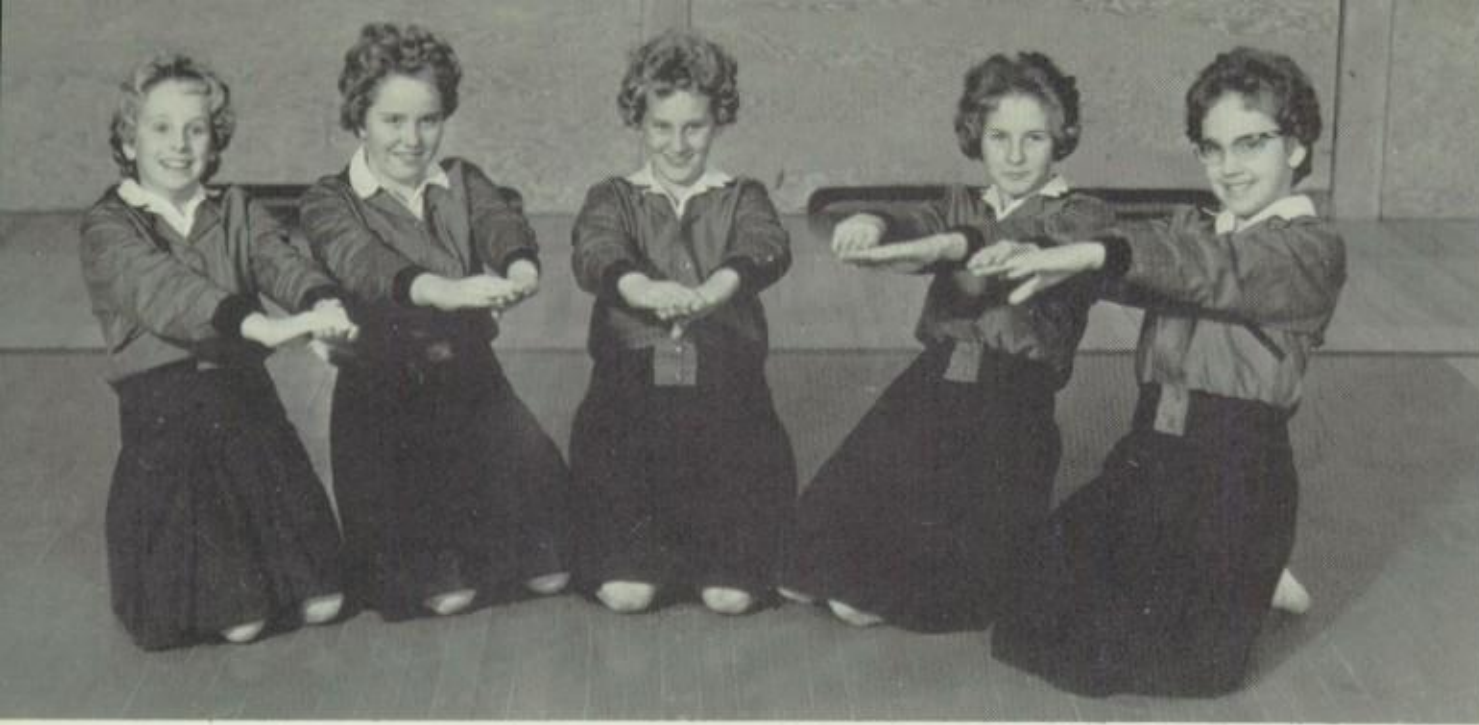

We especially have enjoyed the new science roll-a-lab received by the elementary grades.

Most sixth graders are anxiously awaiting the end of school and the new experiences that will confront them in the seventh grade.

Freshman Class Activities

With six subjects and extra-curricular activities, the freshmen were very busy this year.

The freshmen had a choice of taking algebra or general mathematics, both of which were taught by Mr. Greene. Several of the things studied by the freshman general science classes, under Mr. Sorenson, were light, machines, energy, and communication. As a requirement of this course, the freshmen also had individual science projects.

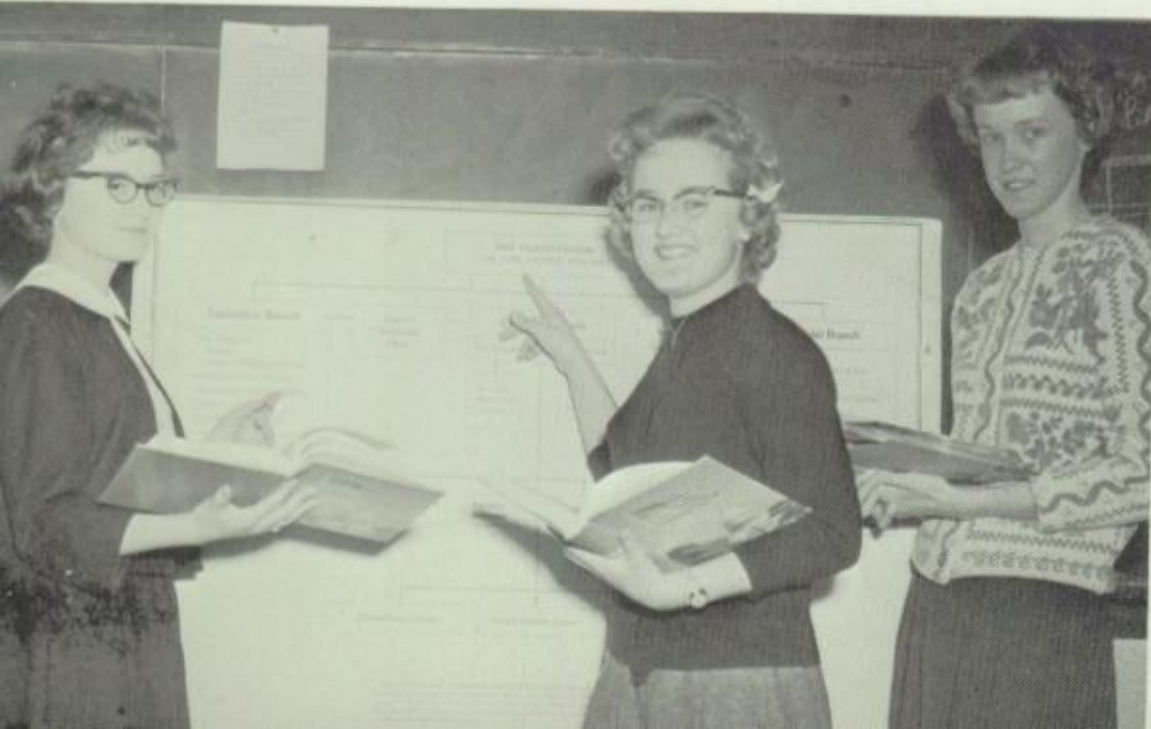

One semester was spent studying English with Mr. Purcell, and the other was spent studying literature with Mr. Skay. All freshman girls took home economics. Several of the units covered were grooming, child care and development, sewing, and we spent about eight weeks in the foods lab. The boys had a choice between taking industrial arts or vocational agriculture. This year the freshmen also had typing and social studies, alternating these subjects every other day. Mr. Karlson instructed us in our social living course, and Mr. Morrow in typing.

The freshmen enjoyed taking part in the high school extra-curricular activities. Activities open to freshmen were bank, FFA, FHA, GRA, Scarlet and Black, Cyclone Staff, football, basketball, track, and drill team.

Last year's "Freshies" are no longer cooped up in a room of their own. We are now residing in the High School Assembly and our official title is the Sophomore Class.

This year we were required to take only history and English II and elective courses were algebra, biology, agriculture, industrial arts, home economics, German, and typing. Drivers Education was available to our class during summer vacation and most of us had a "blast." The fact that A.H.S. was able to use the automobile for the following year's class is to our credit.

Studies require much of our time but many of us have allowed ourselves sufficient time for the athletic and music departments of our school. We also produced the second prize float, "Victory to the Stars," for the homecoming parade. Our representatives in the homecoming court were Addie Alderson and David Strom.

We will have many fond memories of our Sophomore year with homecoming and participation in the Junior and Senior prom as highlights, plus all the school activities and sports we could enter. Eleventh grade, here we come!

Junior Class Activities

The class of 1964 has come to the stage in their lives for advancing. They will now be faced with more serious problems concerning the future.

There is a wide variety of subjects available to us; homemaking, agriculture, industrial arts, German, shorthand, typing, geometry, chemistry, and the required English III, and U.S. history.

Soon after school started we began working for a first place rating on our homecoming float. This we received with our slogan, "Ringing Out For Victory." Attendant was Lynn Fett and escort was Tom Cone.

The next great event was the Junior Class Play,

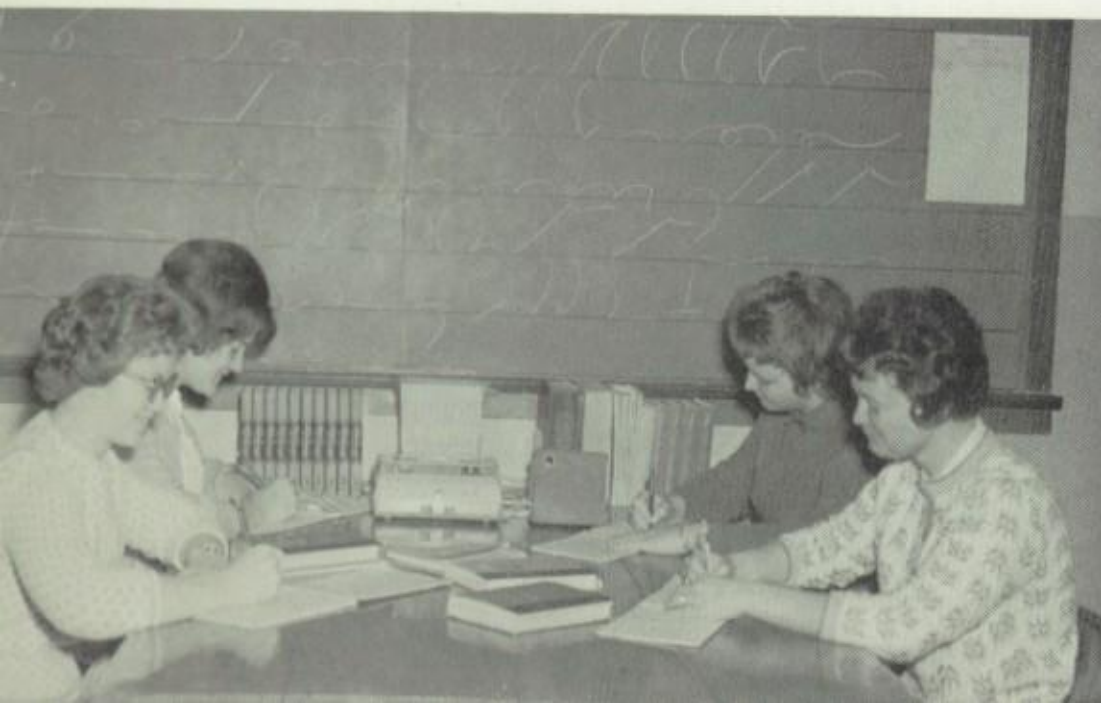

"The Greener Grasses," which was a wonderful experience for all Juniors.

The Junior Class was given the privilege of running the concession stand during the football and basketball games. The money made at the concession stand was used to pay the expenses of the Junior-Senior Banquet. This banquet was presented for the Seniors along with a beautifully designed prom.

After the prom, the juniors got down to the serious business of final exams and the closing of another school year.

Senior Class Play

"Old Doc"

"Old Doc" was presented by the Senior Class of March 8, 1962.

The entire plot revolves around Old Doc, played by Dean Brechwald. He was the old doctor of Mason County, living for the day when his son, Bob (John Nordman) would join him in his office. Through much confusion and misunderstanding his dream finally came true.

Ma Brown (Candace Anderson) and Pa Brown (Keith Endreson) were close friends of old Doc's. Margaret Burns (Judy Coombs) was old Doc's nurse and Bob's fiancé. Dick Burns (John Nordstrom) was Margaret's brother. Old Doc's niece, Janet Martin, was played by Beverly Lietz. Dr. Edmond Brand and Helen Brand were played by Jerry Meyer and Bonita Johnson; they were friends of Bob's. Mr. Hepple, a lawyer, was cast by Charles Kraemer. Mary Selby (Linda Larsen), Mrs. Rossi (Mary Carter), Mrs. Cronin (Marilyn Murphy), Mrs. Mellon (Julie Grigg), and Lois Warner (Connie Jensen) were friends and patients of Old Doc.

This concludes the 1963 Yearbook and also closes the doors of Alta High School to the 1963 graduates. Our arduous work has rewarded us with honors which we will treasure the rest of our lives.

Some will experience hardships in their future; others may find fame and fortune ahead of them. Whatever befalls each member, the class motto proves that there is only one answer:

"Only the Master shall praise us; and only the Master shall blame."
